Short description of the thesis:

Considering the fact that the social media is affecting many aspects of our lives nowadays, I was very curious to find if the teachers of English language in Gjilan and Ferizaj high schools are influenced by this. Are they using it to improve their teaching or being more professional as an English teacher? If yes, how? If no, why?

I'm going to do an investigation about this in these two cities, and I'm expecting interesting results. This master thesis will also define the concept of social media explaining some details about this, and it will be especially focused on how to use the benefits which comes from social media to motivate the teachers for being good teachers and to have effective teaching. This also will bring more data about the online programmes which offer many interactive courses when the teachers can join and exchange the experiences to the worldwide community of English language teachers.
